

Creative people solutions.
Measurable business results.

Belbin Team Roles

People are more engaged and productive in the workplace when they play to their behavioural strengths. Belbin Team Role reports empower individuals to fulfil their potential at work and enable organisations to create and maintain high performing teams. They offer a time and cost-effective solution to understanding workplace behaviours.

The team at White Cube Consulting have been accredited to deliver Belbin Team Roles consultancy for 15 years and have extensive experience of delivering Belbin to individuals and teams both in the UK and internationally.

Solutions

Individual reports - highlight strengths and possible weak spots.

Observer feedback - show how individual's views of their behavioural style are supported by the views of others.

Team reports - show the team strengths and weaknesses.

Job profiles /Job match reports - profile job roles in behavioural terms and match prospective candidates to the role. These highlight strengths and possible weaknesses in terms of the role, enable those making hiring decisions to look at behaviours as well as technical skills and reduce the risk of making poor hiring decisions.

Working relationship reports- these examine how two individuals will work together in terms of behavioural style. This can be useful when selection for a role or in instances of interpersonal conflict.

Team building sessions for new and established teams using Belbin.

Belbin team materials and games

"Do you want a collection of brilliant minds or a brilliant collection of minds"
Meredith Belbin

Contact us for a free consultation meeting

hello@whitecubeconsulting.com

01224 531524

www.whitecubeconsulting.com